The Vermont Legislature has pioneered a bill creating a path for the universal, publicly funded healthcare system. James Haslam from the Vermont Workers' Center is coming to California to share their story and inspire Californians to do the same.

"When people come together, make their voices heard and demand their rights, we can overcome well-funded special interests and change what is politically possible" -James Haslam

Your help is needed--it DOES take a community. We can learn from Vermont's success and duplicate it in California. Please join other concerned citizens of Orange County who are committed to making healthcare available for all Californians.

TOGETHER WE CAN MAKE THIS HAPPEN!
